President's Report

This year in hindsight has been interesting at the very least. With our year end wrapping up just at the beginning of the world pandemic, Evergreen stakeholders have been steadfast and true. Prior to the pandemic, we had experienced change in the community and on the board of directors, but Evergreen has been continuing to service the community reaching over 1000 families in the Markham, Thornhill and Stouffville area. The commitment from the staff and volunteers is truly incredible, and Evergreen's sense of supportive culture is warm and welcoming. I can't thank the volunteers and staff enough for their commitment to Evergreen and the support they provide to the community. I am eternally grateful that I have the opportunity to help support and participate in this organization. A heartfelt thank you to each of you.

Last year saw Evergreen moving closer to a residential hospice by making positive steps forward to secure the necessary land, developing new partnerships, expanding on the Evergreen Palliative Care Doctor's partnership and putting all the necessary foundation pieces in place. Unfortunately, those plans have now been put on hold due to the pandemic, but, through the leadership of our Executive Director, Jan Pearce, she was able to secure a partnership with an organization that has a leading edge formula for delivering end of life hospice care without the aid of a physical structure. We at Evergreen are excited to see this new project move forward, and we hope you'll stay tuned for announcements over the next year.

I would like to thank our donors for their support and dedication to Evergreen. Throughout the year, and particularly when the pandemic first affected Evergreen, our donors were supportive and engaged. We cannot deliver the service we do without them. Only 30% of Evergreen's funding comes from the government, and, with the commitment of our donors, Evergreen is able to deliver service that is in growing demand. I am forever grateful to our stakeholders and donors for their generosity and support of Evergreen.

At the close of our AGM this year, a number of long standing board members will be finishing their term with Evergreen. I would like to thank each of them for their support and service to Evergreen. It is through their commitment and dedication that Evergreen has continued to serve the growing community. As there is change at the board of directors, there is a change of leadership internally as well. Our executive director, Jan Pearce, has reduced her work hours and is moving towards retirement. We are not saying goodbye yet, but working on a succession plan that will continue to see Evergreen delivering the same level of service with the compassion and care that it always has under Jan's leadership.

Finally, I would like to thank the board of directors, new members and all the staff and stakeholders for allowing me to stand as the chair of the board. It is a pleasure and an honour to serve as Evergreen's Chair. I look forward to an interesting year ahead where Evergreen's services are in higher demand with the effects of the pandemic and where exciting new projects will see a new type of end of life care in our community. Thank you to each of you for your ongoing support of Evergreen.

Warmly,
Kimberly Carson

Executive Director's Report

Although the recent months following the year end of 2019-20 at Evergreen have changed the format of service a great deal, this report is on the year that ended on March 31 2020, just two weeks into the pandemic, when we had no idea what was going to be the new normal.

In 2019-20, our dedicated staff team and over 85 fully trained committed volunteers were able to serve over 1011 clients. There were another 106 who helped with office work, fundraising, community awareness, Board Governance and events. Our volunteers were, and still are, the backbone of service for Evergreen. Their job descriptions changed with the pandemic, but their commitment to Evergreen remains, as ever, a commitment to the highest quality of life for our clients.

Until the last two weeks of March, when the office was closed (we had hoped for only a few weeks to a month) and staff moved home to work, services to clients included palliative care home volunteer visiting, The Living Room day hospice services (including hundreds of sessions of complementary therapy), support groups for women with cancer, a peer led support group for men with cancer, seminars for caregivers, a monthly resource mailings for caregivers and those who are bereaved, bereavement support groups and professional counselling for clients with life threatening illnesses, caregivers and bereavement clients. All services are provided at no cost to the client.

In the community, Evergreen continued to have a role of informing and educating people about palliative care, normal bereavement and health care navigation. Presentations were made up until mid March to over 3400 individuals at service clubs, clubs, faith groups, school staff and students, government and other community agencies.

The year 2019-20 brought a small grant from the Centre for Brain Health and Aging at Baycrest, to move our Compassionate Community Initiative forward, involving Evergreen and our partners in a province-wide research project. This project looked at the impact of client reported survey results of their perceived needs to reduce their isolation, their way. Evergreen worked with HPCO, Health Commons Solutions Lab and the Neighbours Initiative to develop and test a volunteer training program to enable Evergreen volunteers and volunteers of other community agencies, to administer the surveys with isolated seniors and their caregivers. Evergreen staff helped to develop a catalogue of activities that volunteers could share with clients to address these needs that they themselves had identified. The grant began in November 2019 and was to end in October 2020, but Evergreen received an extension of 3 months to address the problems with face-to-face surveys in the midst of a pandemic! Other complications included the recruitment of volunteers to the project and the ability to train them virtually.

Our funding, from the Ministry of Health, funnelled through the Central LHIN and distributed to Evergreen and the other York Region hospices through Better Living Services, continues to flow, providing 30% of our income. The staff and volunteer efforts increased our number of served clients to 1011 and number of visits to 17,567, well above the targets imposed by our funder and almost 8% over last year with no change in provincial funding.

Caroline Allen continued to represent Evergreen at many public forums including the Markham Board of Trade, the Whitchurch-Stouffville Chamber of Commerce, The Integrated Partnership for Seniors (TIPS). Business partners are essential for Evergreen's success through sponsorship of events and special programs.

The Board and Executive continued to move forward in a bid to establish residential hospice services in Markham. In January, we officially strengthened our partnership with local palliative care physicians in Markham and Stouffville. By January, with partners SE Health and Markham Stouffville Hospital, we came close to confirming relationships and land, but our efforts were paused because of the pandemic. Although the intent is to build in the future, our current difficulty with fundraising for a building during the lean days of a global pandemic has slowed the process down.

Evergreen remained an active member of the Ontario Caregiver Coalition (OCC), which continues to inform the public of the important role of informal caregivers in the health care system and press the government for more support for caregivers

Powerful Tools for Caregivers, an amazing program developed by Stanford University was available throughout this year but it was difficult for many caregivers to find the time to attend the series of seminars. With the pandemic, all programs were put on hold temporarily but as we move into the fall of 2020, the Caregiver program will be provided through Zoom in conjunction with CHATS.

Evergreen continued to work with Better Living Health Services and the five York Region hospices as part of a leadership team across the Region. Collaboration continued to reduce the competition and increase the cooperation across borders while improving the services we can provide to our clients. From the first 2 weeks of the lockdown for the pandemic in March and onward, this group met every week and twice a week with the Executive at HPCO to determine the direction to pivot based on the latest information relayed to us from the Ministry of Health.

Evergreen continued to work with HPCO on collecting outcomes measures that more effectively describe the value of community hospices in the health care system. With consistent provision of data to HPCO, we are able to obtain information about trends and needs locally while contributing to the provincial database for use in negotiations with the Ministry of Health.

Once again, there were changes in staffing at Evergreen this year. In February 2020, our Counsellor, Michelle Mcminassian, left on maternity leave. While she welcomed a new daughter to the family, we were very lucky to have Stephen Ashley, a previous Clinical Placement Masters student from Yorkville University, capably fill in for the leave. Michelle is expected back in February 2021. Later in February, Tammy Millburn, Evergreen's nurse, left Evergreen for personal and family reasons just as the storm of COVID-19 was rearing its ugly head. Because of the changes in how services were provided to in-home clients with life-threatening illness during the pandemic, the position has not yet been filled. We look forward to the return of staff and volunteer to face-to-face home visiting in the future. Currently, however, the bulk of referrals received as of March 2020 are for counselling related to the impact of COVID-19 on the person with the illness, their caregivers and the bereaved who are left behind when a loved one dies. Our counsellors are to be congratulated for their swift adjustment from face-to-face interactions to telephone and internet based sessions - all with amazing success and gratefulness on the part of our clients.

I continued to take a backseat role in the day-to-day activities at Evergreen as Lerryn Pitcher grew into the role very competently. Responsible for all management of the staff and programming, Lerryn was an inspiring leader throughout the year 2019-20, but especially during the subsequent months of the pandemic. She and the team were able to change over individual and group services to a virtual format swiftly, moving with the changes in needs by clients and families. Lerryn has been, and continues to be, a great support to staff and volunteers through a very difficult time for everyone. Lerryn is now representing Evergreen in all regional and provincial groups and activities. Lerryn also manages the fundraising activities with the assistance of Rebecca Simkin, Caroline Allen and volunteers from specific committees and the Board.

My role in the 2019-20 year has been with the residential hospice negotiations and development, the Compassionate Community program development to improve the care for the vulnerable in our area, and work with the Board. During the first 6 months of 2020-21, Lerryn assumed the Board activities, and my role has become one of a consultant for Lerryn and the Board. I will complete the grant work I started and hopefully move forward the Residential Hospice development in the next few months with my role officially ending by January 2021.

In the 2020-21 year, Evergreen will be faced with more changes related to the COVID-19 pandemic in client services, staff and volunteer support, new recruitment and fundraising. The unknowns in our near future mean that Evergreen will have to be able to pivot creatively and accommodate the changing needs in all three areas. I believe Evergreen is in a good place to do this because of the dedication of staff and volunteers, the experience of the Board and the amazing community support that we enjoy. With all three pieces, Evergreen not only survived the impact of COVID-19 at the end of this fiscal year, but also grew in value to the community and the vulnerable families that we serve.

As in all my years at Evergreen, I am humbled by the compassionate, informed and dedicated individuals who make Evergreen work. It has been my honour to work for such an organization for over 14 years!

Jan Pearce,
Executive Director

Client Services Report

Evergreen's focus in the past year has been extending services to more residents of Markham, Stouffville and Thornhill while maintaining the best possible quality of service.

All of Evergreen's small staff (7 part time and 3 full time) provided service to clients and their families every day: by phone, in person and by mail/email. Some support is provided in one-to-one sessions (by volunteers or staff), and some support is in the group format. Our front line staff devoted all their time to client services while the rest took on specific client support roles, in addition to other activities. As always, all of the staff supported the dedicated volunteers working within their sector of service.

With the amazing support from our over 85 active client volunteers, Evergreen care is able to focus on quality of life for the whole family starting at the initial diagnosis, through difficult treatment and, if necessary, through to end-of-life care and bereavement. With the combination of the staff team and trained volunteers, we were able to offer quality support to families through our in-home services, caregiver support, and wellness focused services (including The Living Room, C-Care Support Groups, and Powerful Tools for Caregivers), as well as provide one-to-one counselling and bereavement support to hundreds.

During the year April 1, 2019 to March 31, 2020, Evergreen served more than 1011 families, held 237 groups with 3603 participants, sent 1795 bereavement support monthly mailings, sent 686 caregiver mailings, spoke to about 3400 community members at meetings and presentations, and celebrated 3 memorials. Our volunteers and staff provided 17,567 visits, and this was only possible because of the generous donation of about 9,000 hours by our committed volunteers. In addition, many hours were provided by volunteers involved in office work, the all-important fundraising activities and, of course, on the Board of Directors.

Just prior to our year end, we went into lockdown due to COVID-19. Our staff and volunteers made the pivot from in-person support to telephone/virtual conferencing very quickly. We made a point of being in contact with every client on a regular basis. By August 2020, every one of our programs and services was up and running virtually.

In-Home Support Services

Providing services at an individual's home, at the time they want it, by a consistent volunteer, continued to be the most important part of what Evergreen did in 2019-20 and is where most of Evergreen's volunteer hours are invested.

During their professional assessments, nurses Patti Enright or Tammie Milburn, try to determine what need is the most important in their life at that time. If we can meet that need, we do. If not, a referral and warm hand off is organized to insure that vulnerable clients get the service they require from one of many organizations and institutions with which Evergreen collaborates. Families are also offered the option of having a compassionate, well- trained volunteer visit their home to provide a variety of services, including:

- emotional support to the client, their caregiver or both,
- respite care, to allow the family or friends who are doing the care an opportunity to go out, rest, or have some time alone,
- accompaniment on medical appointments, a walk in the park, or an errand,
- a non-judgmental listening ear when a client or family member wants to unload feelings without burdening the family,
- assistance with legacy work,
- a silent presence in the room while someone sleeps, or
- a comforting touch when feeling alone.

Because Evergreen volunteers are regular visitors to the client's home, they may be the first people to notice when a caregiver is struggling or a client crisis is approaching. This early warning system may facilitate early intervention with extra professional home care from the LHIN home care providers in time to reduce emergency room visits and hospital admissions. Evergreen volunteers in the home are also in the position to inform families about other Evergreen services that might be of help to the family. Individual counselling, caregiver support groups, C-care cancer support groups and The Living Room may be options for some clients or family members. Evergreen provides in-home support to people of all ages, from childhood to the very elderly, at the location of their choice.

Caregiver Support

Evergreen remains committed to helping families stretch their limited resources by assisting family caregivers through counselling, support groups, informational mailings, and respite. Caregivers are contacted directly about their needs, which legitimizes their position in the family and society. This helps the caregiver recognize the pressures they are under, as well as their limits - often leading to earlier intervention.

The Circle of Care support group, facilitated by caring, experienced volunteers or staff, is a place for caregivers to meet with other like individuals, to learn from and support each other. Telephone support on alternate weeks helps relieve some of the difficult emotions typical in caregivers struggling to cope when overtired and stressed. Counselling by Evergreen professionals is also available for caregivers when their stress is interfering with their ability to continue.

Evergreen also offers the program, Powerful Tools for Caregivers. This Stanford University developed program is a six-session workshop for caregivers, focusing on self-care as a way to provide better care to a loved one. There are opportunities to talk about their own situation with others who understand and a great way to learn new strategies. Communication techniques and dealing with difficult emotions are other topics that are addressed. Graduates are very positive about how the sessions impacted their lives.

We also provide informational mailings for caregivers. These mailings, sent once or twice a month, provide information about resources, self-care and support. It is a good entry point for caregivers who feel that their personal care is not important when their loved one is sick.

The Living Room

The Living Room has a team of dedicated volunteers led by Coordinator, Heidi Spiar, and remains Evergreen's most well-known program. Recognizing the inherent therapeutic value in organized curriculum and recreation, referrals to this palliative program continue to grow. While clients are enjoying yoga, massage, art expression, mind-sharpening trivia games and interactive social projects, caregivers can tend to their own needs, knowing their loved ones are enjoying a day out of the home. Generous community members and organizations provide a nutritious lunch as part of the program. Volunteers serve the meal so clients benefit from a truly fulfilling social and dining experience. This year, The Living Room supported 665 visits. We grew our community partnership capacity by adding seven new contacts that have enriched our program with cultural diversity, environmental sensitivity, and holistic health. We also added eight new contacts for the provision of lunch.

C-care Support Programs for Women Experiencing Cancer

This seven week closed support group is facilitated by professionals and survivors to provide women experiencing cancer with useful skills and helpful information. In 2019 – 2020, we offered 3 support group series for Part 1 and 4 support group series for Part 2, supporting 180 women.

C-care Support Programs for Men Experiencing Cancer

In May, 2019, we started our first closed support group for men experiencing cancer. This group is facilitated by experienced volunteers and offers useful skills, helpful information and peer support.

Grief and Bereavement Programs

The feelings one experiences after the death of a loved one can frighten and sometimes immobilize the newly bereaved. Indeed, when a loved one dies, the initial shock and bewilderment may well last weeks or months. A great deal of bereavement support and counselling focuses on the normalcy of the grief reaction, in spite of how abnormal it feels, removing the additional burden of feeling inadequate or "crazy" as a result. This allows bereaved family members to really feel the loss and work through the grief experience in the way that is best for them. Understanding the normalcy of grief does not eliminate the pain of loss, but it can reduce the anxiety about their feelings and help them create more reasonable expectations about their progress.

Drop-in adult support groups are offered monthly and facilitated by trained volunteers, providing ongoing support to families struggling with the death of a friend or family member. These groups may help individuals work through a particularly difficult time of year (holidays, anniversaries, birthdays, for example) or may be a person's first introduction to Evergreen's services.

Circle of Hope, an adult support group series facilitated by experienced volunteers, was offered three times this year. Often, the groups are all the support that is needed to help a person get back on track. Others may have more complex issues, requiring one-to-one counselling, which was provided in 2019-20 by counsellors Bonnie Strand, Lerryn Pitcher,

Michelle McMinassian or Stephen Ashley. Six or more (depending on the situation) professional sessions are provided at no charge to the client. Referrals to other agencies or professionals may also be made if the situation warrants.

Support for children and teens is also available. Evergreen takes referrals from school staff, parents and other agencies that may know of a child or teen who is having difficulty coping with a death or the serious illness of a loved one. Groups are age specific, teach about normal grief, and often involve activities that encourage the sharing of feelings about the loved one they have lost.

In November, Evergreen also provided three sessions of "Coping with the Holidays" for those who are grieving. As well as helpful tips, the evening included a memorial candle lighting ceremony and refreshments.

Volunteer Report

Evergreen Hospice would not exist without the efforts of all our volunteers. Thanks to our volunteers, we are able to provide a variety of different programs and supports to clients and our community with minimal staff. There are almost two hundred volunteers who give their time, expertise, and passion to Evergreen. Whether they are volunteering in the office, at events, raising money, or spending time with clients, Evergreen's volunteers are an amazing group of people, and we are forever grateful to them!

Approximately half of our volunteers are client volunteers and offer support directly to our clients in the community. These women and men are available on a consistent weekly basis to meet the various needs of our palliative, caregiver, and bereavement clients by facilitating groups or visiting with clients and their families in their homes.

Members of our volunteer Board of Directors offer their expertise to set policies, work on committees, and provide direction for our organization. They work with our staff to provide leadership and policies to ensure we are meeting the needs of our clients and the community.

Our administrative volunteers provide valuable support for our clients, staff, and volunteers by answering the phone, compiling our bereavement and caregiver resource mailings, stocking and shopping for supplies, filing, copying, and data entry.

Our fundraising volunteers do an outstanding job of raising the financial resources to fulfill our mission by planning, organizing, and managing our special fundraising events. Unfortunately, our annual gala this year had to be postponed just a week before scheduled due to Covid-19 shutdowns. The Gala Committee volunteers had worked hard collecting prizes so we were able to run two online auctions with some of the items, and we plan to transition the gala to a virtual platform on October 22, 2020. Our event volunteers were ready to go to support the Gala with setup, take down, running stations, and anything else required that evening - and they were ready to help with the Walk to Remember and the Cycle for Life as well.

All of our volunteers are invited to attend Evergreen training sessions throughout the year to enhance their knowledge and skills. This year, volunteers attended sessions on Parkinson's, Advance Care Planning, Compassionate Community - Supporting Isolated Seniors, Legacy Work and Memory Making, ALS, and Palliative Care with York Paramedics (with added AED/CPR training). In addition to Evergreen's training programs, our volunteers also attend training offered through our partners within the community.

Evergreen Hospice recognizes the very significant contributions of individual volunteers. At our Annual General Meeting, it has become a tradition to acknowledge volunteers who have been with Evergreen for 5, 10, 15, 20 and 25 years. Receiving 5 year certificates are Barb Beauchamp, Wini Lin, Salim Manji, Dinah Mason, Anne Nicholson, Einav Simoni, John Stoneman, and Charlene Walton. Receiving 10 year certificates are Suzanne Cesaroni, and Katy Kwan. Receiving a 15 year certificate is Bictoria Early Receiving a 25 year certificate is Hayward Hann.

Thank you to all of our volunteers! I am in awe of you all, and you inspire me to be better every single day. It is a privilege to be on this journey with you!

Fundraising Report 2019-20

After a leave to care for and grieve her husband, our long-standing Fund Development coordinator, Rebecca Simkin, returned on a part-time basis. Evergreen also had the benefit of the community development skills of Caroline Allen.

We were lucky to have the social media and computer skills of our summer students. As social media becomes one of the best ways to promote our programs and our events, it is important to create a steady stream of information coming from Evergreen on social media platforms. Our summer student, Hayley Pickard, has been helping us with this.

In May, we held our Pass the Care Forward Memorial Walk. We asked the community to join us to remember the special people in their lives who have died, releasing a dove in the memory. Their donations would “pass the care forward” to others in need. This was followed by a short walk through the local trails and a light lunch. This event raised almost $12,000.

We were lucky to be the recipient of funds from a wide variety of “third party events” led by community members who hold an event or activity to benefit Evergreen. Thornhill community churches participated in a Lent donation program for Evergreen. The Bayview Golf and Country Club held their annual Lilac Tennis Tournament in honour of Evergreen’s work. The Unionville Curling Club Women’s Golf Tournament and the Kylemore Kares Golf Tournament benefited Evergreen. Proceeds were committed to Evergreen from a family memorial ball tournament, a neighbourhood Christmas party, The Rotary Club of Markham Unionville 50/50 draw and St. Patrick’s Parish Dinner, all of which indicate the community’s belief in our work.

Our programs were supported by a number of foundations and corporations, including: Knights of Columbus, Alectra Utilities, the J.P. Bickell Foundation, The Frank Scarpitti Charitable Foundation, Life Long Learning Markham, the Eric and Cheryl Wright Family Charitable Trust and the Throop Family Foundation.

Our annual Gala, the largest fundraiser of the year, An Evening of Fun, Frivolity and MURDER!, had to be postponed due to the COVID-19 lockdown. We rescheduled for October 22nd, but have come to realize that the event had to go virtual. Plans are in place to convert the entire gala to an at home experience.

Due to the loss of our major fundraiser, we sent out an emergency appeal to our community. We appreciate all the support that has come our way.

Through our commitment to our communities, we have been honoured to provide support to almost 1000 families in this past year.
